Selecting Options

Joint Membership and Consortium Options

Review the SENSE Options and Rates and provide the college's selections for the following questions.

If necessary, the college can return to this page later using the link emailed from info@cccse.org to provide additional information as long as the registration form has not been submitted.

SENSE/CCSSE Joint Membership

Administer both SENSE and the Community College Survey of Student Engagement (CCSSE) in either the same academic year or the same calendar year and receive up to a 40% discount on the base price of the second administration of the pair (percentage is dependent upon combination of other discounts, if any). For details, visit the Options and Rates page.

Yes, my college would like to commit to join both SENSE 2024 and CCSSE 2025

No, my college would not like to join both surveys at this time

Consortium Options

A group of colleges with common interests, characteristics, or locations, may form a SENSE consortium and receive aggregated data reports and, if the group chooses, it may administer a joint set of additional items for a fee. For more information about consortium membership, please visit the Options and Rates page.

Eligible colleges may participate in the Hispanic Student Success (HSS) consortium. The consortium consists of qualifying institutions — those that have Hispanic-Serving Institutions (HSI) designation and/or hold membership in the Hispanic Association of Colleges and Schools (HACU).

Participation in consortia other than HSS can be added by contacting surveyops@cccse.org after you complete the registration form.

Yes, my college would like to join the HSS consortium

No, my college would not like to join the HSS consortium

See base pricing by enrollment size at cccse.org/sense/join/options.cfm#basic

Reach out to surveyops@cccse.org for more information about the HSS consortium.

Special-Focus Modules and R/E Survey

Select the special-focus module(s) your college wishes to administer.

Note: The default option is set to the free module available that year.

See the full survey and FAQs at cccse.org/race-ethnicity-survey

Special-Focus Modules

For an additional fee of $750 per module, a participating SENSE college may add up to two special-focus modules of up to 12 items each. For more information, visit the Options and Rates page. Colleges may choose from one of CCCSE's Standard Special-Focus Modules or create a custom module.

The Culture of Caring item set is part of ongoing CCCSE research. For the 2024 administration, colleges will automatically receive this item set free of charge unless they select two of the other options below.

- Culture of Caring (free of charge)
- Academic Advising and Planning
- Building Relationships
- Commitment and Support
- Early Self-Reported Outcomes
- Financial Assistance
- Guided Pathways
- Promising Practices for Community College Student Success
- Student Success Courses
- Transfer (Not available with a paper-and-pencil administration)

- Custom Additional Item Set

Race/Ethnicity Survey

For an additional fee, participating SENSE colleges are also eligible to participate in the stand-alone Race/Ethnicity Survey. The purpose of this online survey is to help colleges understand their students' experiences with racism, inclusion, and belonging. Colleges registering for this option with SENSE 2024 can administer the Race/Ethnicity Survey in the fall of 2024, spring of 2025, or fall 2025. More information is available through the Race/Ethnicity Survey FAQs.

- No, my college would not like to participate the Race/Ethnicity Survey

Administration Modality

Selecting an option does not lock you into this modality; colleges can change it during the data verification process.

Administration Modality

Colleges can administer SENSE in randomly selected classes or as a fully online survey. The in-class administration can be done using paper instruments or by having students complete the survey using their personal computers or smart devices. All administration modalities contain the same survey items.

Online administration: The survey link is shared broadly to a census sample of all survey eligible students. Colleges promote survey participation in various ways, including via e-mail, text messaging, or the Learning Management System. Students typically take the survey in their own time using their personal computers, smartphones, or tablets. Colleges considering an online administration should review the Online SENSE FAQs.

In-Class administration: CCCSE selects a stratified random sample of in-person courses in which the survey will be administered. After the college approves the sample, CCCSE prepares and ships survey packets to the Campus Coordinator for each selected class.

- Paper-and-Pencil: The survey packets contain instructions, an administration script, and a paper survey instrument for each student in the class. After reading the script, survey administrators provide a survey to each student in the classroom. Completed surveys are placed back in the survey packets and returned to CCCSE by the November survey deadline.
- Device-Based: The survey packets contain administration instructions, an administration script, and QR code cards with the survey link. Students complete the survey using their own personal computer, smartphone, or tablet (or one provided by the college). Although the college will not need to ship anything back to CCCSE, all surveys must be completed by the November survey deadline. Colleges that select a device-based in-class administration can also survey their online-only students without incurring an additional fee for the optional add-on. If you have any questions about the device-based administration, please email surveyops@cccse.org.

Please indicate how your college intends to administer SENSE. If you are still uncertain, please indicate the administration modality the college is most likely to select. If you have any questions about the administration modality, please contact surveyops@cccse.org. Colleges will be able to change their administration modality through June of 2024.

- My college will administer the in-class (paper-and-pencil) version of the survey
- My college will administer the in-class (device-based) version of the survey
- My college will administer SENSE online

Selecting an in-class admin will trigger additional options; see next page.
